TIP: Contact the Clear Creek Ranger District for trail updates and conditions.

Highlights: ■ Beautiful views of high peaks ■ Everestesque view of the North Ridge of Torrey's Peak
